ALUMNI NEWS

SPRING 2016

Note from the President

by Chris Haines

This is where I tell you all the great things we're doing. But we wouldn't be doing much of anything without your amazing contributions.

So let me tell you all the great things you are doing:

You will be awarding 33 scholarships totaling over $50,000 to the Class of 2016!

Your generous contributions have built up a fund balance of over $800,000, ensuring that your scholarships continue for decades.

Notes on several of your recent scholarships:

Harry W. Salchak Science Scholarship – We're almost there – you have contributed over $48,000 toward your goal of $50,000, thanks largely to the generous support and contributions from alumni who graduated in the early 1960s.

Ronald L. Sodoma Memorial Scholarship – Established in memory of our long-time Superintendent of Schools, we've already received over $30,000 in the first six months, and have set a goal of $50,000.

Glassner Family Scholarship – Established in memory of Jake and Dottie Glassner, this scholarship is made possible through generous gifts from the Glassner family.

Craig Anderson Scholarship – Established in memory of Craig Anderson, an outstanding high school athlete in the early 1970s. We are working with his family to permanently fund this scholarship through the Alumni Foundation.

Agricultural scholarships – The Panek Family has set up two agricultural scholarships in conjunction with the FFA. We continue to develop opportunities in this area.

Masons and Rotary scholarships – The local Masonic Lodge and Rotary Club have entrusted us with several of their scholarships, and have made generous additional contributions to build those scholarships.

Special thanks to all of the volunteers who carry out your good work - spreading the word about the Alumni Foundation, selecting scholarship recipients, keeping the website and newsletters fresh and informative, managing investments, and planning for the future.

Do you have any suggestions? Please send me an email (chris@albionalumni.org).

Thank you for making the Alumni Foundation what it is today!

Best regards,

Chris Haines, President

Do you have a new address?

Please email any address changes for you and your family to chris@albionalumni.org.

Eagles in the Spotlight

Two Albion grads are key leaders at RIT

Dr. Howard Ward and Jeremy Babcock work to ensure top-notch facilities, services for students

His spacious office in the Global Village at the Rochester Institute of Technology is a long way from his living conditions as a kid, when Howard Ward grew up without running water at a migrant labor camp on Baker Road. Ward, who earned a doctorate in higher education, is an associate vice president at RIT. He has worked 39 years for colleges and universities. At RIT, he oversees an $82 million annual budget, 208 employees and leads a team committed to impeccable facilities and service for students and staff. The Global Village is a $55 million student housing and retail complex.

Jeremy Babcock has known Ward for two decades. He spoke at Babcock's Albion High School graduation in 1995. The two stayed in touch when Babcock worked in student services at Brockport State College. Babcock had the tough job of handling student discipline. He also helped manage construction projects. He would often call Ward or have lunch with him, seeing him as a friend and sounding board.

Babcock, after 10 years at Brockport, joined Ward's team at RIT on Feb. 20, 2012 – Babcock can recite the day. Babcock took a job as an assistant director of housing. On Nov. 1, Babcock was promoted to executive director of housing facilities following a grueling search and interview process. Babcock, 39, oversees a staff of 24, the residential halls and 1,000 apartments. He deals with everything from keys, pest control, furniture, laundry facilities and many other issues.

"He's skilled and talented," Ward said about Babcock. "He's well respected on campus. I look forward to his vision."

Ward and Babcock have more in common than their high school alma mater. They have both overcome challenges, and they both left Albion after high school, attending small colleges about six hours away from home. Both wanted to push themselves, and see if they could make it on their own. Ward, a 1972 Albion grad, grew up in the former Coloney Camp in Carlton. He lived there from when he was 2 until he graduated. It was one of the state's largest farmworker labor camps, home to 60 African-American families. Ward grew up in a loving home with loving neighbors. But his house resembled a shack. It was small, poorly insulated and field rats made a racket at night, scratching against the pasteboard outer walls, trying to get inside. Ward was a star football player for Albion. He earned a scholarship at Mount Union College in Ohio. (In 1973, Coloney Camp was torn down and Ward's family moved into a newly-built housing development, Carlton Manor, on Baker Road.) He excelled as a lineman for the Mount Union football team, and was leading tackler in a senior all-star game among Ohio football players. Some NFL scouts were interested. But Ward, who was popular on campus with students, college professors and even the president, was urged to consider a career in college student services. He took that advice and would work at Mount Union, Bowling Green, Ohio Northern University and RIT. He said he has been blessed. He hasn't forgotten his Albion roots, and he has led diversity training for school staff, and worked with students on the college admissions process.

Babcock, the son of Jim and Linda Babcock, is an active member of the Albion Fire Department and a skilled golfer. He and Ward often play golf together, including at charity events. Babcock has a knack for hitting the ball straight, about 200 yards down the middle for his tee offs. He does it all despite being born with birth defects in both arms. Babcock said his parents and friends always encouraged him as a kid. He played Little League baseball, basketball and used adaptive equipment made by his father to ride snowmobiles and be active in many other ways. Babcock these days drives the biggest fire trucks for the fire department.

"I'm really fortunate with what I can do," Babcock said. "My family and friends always pushed me."

He brings a knowledge of construction, and that helps at RIT when he reviews plans for buildings, housing units and other projects. Ward said Babcock also brings a sensitivity to using doors and buildings that many staff don't consider in the design and construction of the space. Babcock sees the big picture, working to do what's best for the university and the students, Ward said.

"I like his tenacity," he said.

Babcock was 18 when he ventured from Albion to attend college near Pittsburgh at the California University of Pennsylvania. He earned a degree in business in 1999, and then a master's degree in business administration in 2001.

"I wanted to prove to myself that I could be on my own," he said.

Ward also needed that distance to become his own man. He said he was a "momma's boy" in high school and had to fight homesickness in college. He was also one of the few black students at Mount Union. He gained confidence and friends through football, good grades and a welcoming personality. He started his career as a residence hall director. He is now one of the key leaders at RIT. He said he enjoys empowering staff and students.

Babcock started his career as a resident director at Brockport, overseeing a residence hall with 200 students and a staff of six. He had to discipline students and have some expelled from school. Some of those students used the punishment as a wake-up call. They turned themselves around, graduated and thanked Babcock for pointing them on the right track.

Ward stayed in touch with Babcock, and was impressed how he handled some of the situations at Brockport, working with students and also with construction of new townhouses.

"He's worked with tough characters and high-level people," Ward said. "He's been involved with major projects."

RIT has been in growth mode in recent years, and continues to expand. Babcock will help manage another $1.9 million in renovations and projects this year. Babcock said RIT is a home away from home for students. He appreciates Ward's push for excellence, to make the facilities safe, comfortable and appealing for students and staff.

"We need to give them the best possible experience whether dining, the residence halls, or the apartments," Babcock said.

The two joked over recently about the upcoming golf season. Babcock, a lefty, is consistent with the 200-yard drives down the middle of the fairway. Ward and some of the long hitters may hit the ball farther than Babcock, but it is often sliced or hooked.

At the end of the day, Babcock wins almost every time.

"He is amazing," Ward said.

Thank you!

Thank you to David Mitchell and staff at Christopher-Mitchell Funeral Home

The Board of Directors of the Albion High School Alumni Foundation, along with the planning committee of the Albion Courthouse Square Concert Series, extends a genuine thank-you to David Mitchell (AHS Class of 1980) and his staff at Christopher Mitchell Funeral Home, Inc. for the continued support of our annual concert series.

David's love of music and dedication to his community and school has proven to be an example of what volunteering can do. A combination of his contributions and the wonderful support from the community has allowed the Foundation to offer several performing arts scholarships and has given the committee a chance to provide world-class entertainment for Albion Courthouse Square concertgoers.

If you're interested in contributing to our concert series or scholarships, please visit our website or drop us a note at PO Box 345, Albion, NY 14411.

Scholarship News

Learn about one of our newest scholarships! The Glassner Family Scholarship

The Glassner Family Scholarship was established in 2015 by the family of the late Jacob (Jake) and Dorothy (Dottie) Glassner to honor their parents who gave and in return received so much from the Albion community. Besides raising eight children in Albion, their tireless efforts in local government, community, social services, and service clubs were instrumental in making Albion a great place to live, work and play. The scholarship is made possible through gifts from the Glassner family and is awarded based on the financial needs of the student.

Jake and Dottie moved their family from Lockport to Albion in the 1950s, where 7 of their 8 children graduated from Albion HS (Barbara '65, Molly '67, Daniel '70, Cynthia '71, Susan '72, Judith '75, Laurie '77, and Kathy who graduated from Notre Dame HS). Both Jake and Dottie were very active in the Albion community. Jake worked for over 30 years for New York Telephone, where he was the area supervisor for many years, was a member of the Lions Club, served on the Arnold Gregory Memorial Hospital Board of Directors, the Village Board, served as interim Mayor during the 1970s, and worked with coach Stackwick for many years on creating and improving the park system for the children of Albion. Jake never met a stranger and could strike up a conversation with anyone. Dottie was a busy mother during her children's early years and worked for many years in Orleans County Social Services. She was a lifelong member of St Joseph's Catholic Church and had many talents, including accomplished pianist and painter. She was an avid reader and was known to read several books a week. She passed her love of reading and artistic talents on to her children and many are avid readers and accomplished folk artists today. After retirement, Jake and Dottie took up lapidary and started a rock business called the Rock Castle. They traveled around the country collecting rocks for their projects and many of their creations are treasured remembrances by their children today. Jake and Dottie were both Navy veterans and served honorably during WWII. They truly are part of the greatest generation. Several family members wanted to honor their parents contributions to the Albion community by helping students graduating from AHS with an annual scholarship, which was established through the Albion HS Alumni Foundation in 2015.

Albion Car Dealership Donates $1,100 to Archbald Scholarship

The scholarship is awarded annually by the Albion Rotary Club, where Archbald was a 70-year member. The scholarship is presented to a graduating senior pursuing a college education who shares a love for sports, recreational activities, community service and work experience.

Davis, a member of the Albion Rotary Club, was joined by Albion Rotarians Ed Fancher, left, and Charlie Nesbitt, who are also on the board for the Albion Alumni Foundation, which manages the scholarship for the Rotary Club. Nesbitt has taken the fundraising lead in fully funding the Archbald scholarship.

Thank-You Reception

On Aug. 5, 2015, the Foundation held the first of what we hope will become an annual event to honor our scholarship donors and recipients. For our inaugural event, held at the home of Chris and Pat Haines, we honored our largest scholarship and our most recently added scholarship. This event was a unique opportunity for the donors and recipients to have one-on-one time meeting and talking to each other in a casual setting that fostered discussion, appreciation, and sharing of ideas and advice. The event also gave members of the Board of Directors of the Foundation a chance to thank our donors for their continued support and confidence in our efforts to bring valuable scholarships to the students of Albion High School.

For more about the event’s honored guests and the scholarships they represented, please visit our website. Simply scroll to the post under “NEWS.” It was posted August 7, 2015.
